

2019-2020 Photo Release

We love to take photographs of students during religious school activities and youth group events. We would like to be able to use these photographs in the classroom for the benefit of the students (including posting them on bulletin boards in the classroom areas), in any Temple B'nai Shalom publications (including our monthly KOL newsletter and our weekly email), our website (www.tbs-online.org), and our social media platforms (e.g., Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, etc.) to document and publicize all of the wonderful things we do at TBS. With the exception of our Confirmation Class photograph, which we send with student names every year to Washington Jewish Week for publication, we would not provide photographs to anyone outside of TBS or grant permission for anyone else to use them. In addition, we will not use names of the students with any photographs posted without your additional, and separate, permission.

This parental consent form requests permission for TBS to be able to use photographs we take of your child(ren) for the limited purposes described above. If you are not comfortable for any reason with this, we certainly respect that and will abide by your wishes.

TBS reserves the right to publish as we see fit any official collective photographs (including, but not limited to, Consecration, Confirmation, Post-Confirmation graduation, and the end-of-school-year student body photo).

Please select one of the following:

- I/We give permission for a photograph/image of my child(ren) to be included in any Temple B'nai Shalom publications (including our monthly KOL newsletter and our weekly email), our website (www.tbs-online.org), and our social media platforms (e.g., Facebook, Twitter, Instagram etc.). Please note: under no circumstances will any student names be associated with photos online without additional parental permission.

- I/We do NOT give permission for a photograph/image of my child(ren) to be used in any way. I do not wish my child(ren)'s image to be included in any TBS publications, on the TBS website, or on social media. Exception to this are collective pictures described in the highlighted section above.
